

Prom Night...

These young ladies are Rose, Daisy and Iris, but not necessarily in that order. On prom night they gathered to get their picture taken. While posing, the woman wearing the rose corsage said, "I just noticed that the flowers in our corsages match our names, but none of us are wearing a flower that matches our own name." "Wow!" said Iris, "You're right!" Given these clues, can you identify who is who in the illustration above?
